NETHERLANDS MARITIME UNIVERSITY (NMU) IS A SPECIALISED EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTE FOUNDED BY THE STC-GROUP. NMU WAS ESTABLISHED IN 2006, TO FULFIL THE NEED FOR MANAGEMENT PROFESSIONALS IN THE MARITIME, LOGISTICS AND TRANSPORT SECTORS. IT OFFERS A FULL-TIME MASTER PROGRAM AT TWO LOCATIONS IN THE WORLD: IN ROTTERDAM, THE NETHERLANDS AND IN GWANGYANG, SOUTH-KOREA. NMU OFFERS THE PART-TIME MASTER PROGRAM IN SHIPPING AND TRANSPORT EXCLUSIVELY AT ITS MAIN LOCATION IN ROTTERDAM.

PROGRAM OBJECTIVES

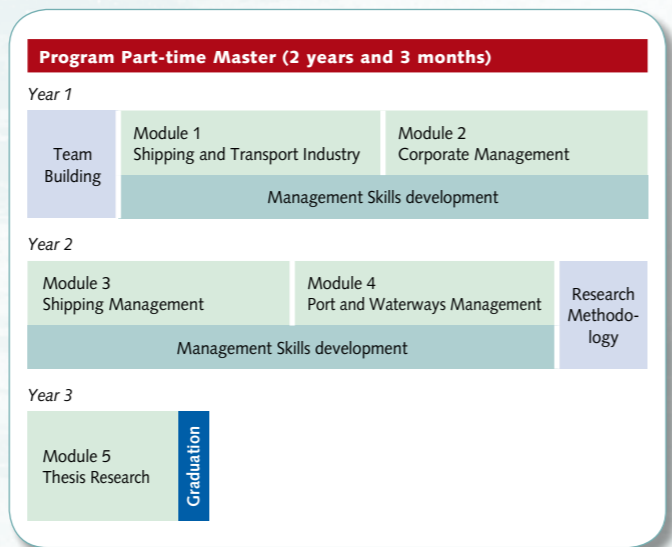

The Master Shipping and Transport program offers you a combination of extensive knowledge and skills training, enabling you to fulfil management positions in the shipping and transport industry. As a participant of the program you will be exposed to a multidisciplinary view on maritime, port, transport and logistics issues and to complex management problems. The part-time program is specifically tailored to ambitious working professionals who wish to combine their career with further higher education.

INVESTMENT IN YOURSELF AND YOUR COMPANY

Your participation in the part-time Master program is an investment in your development as a manager. With our Master program we strive to create an optimal balance between both your personal and your professional development, thereby providing added value to your career as well as to your company. You will be able to apply the acquired knowledge and skills directly in your daily work. Moreover, you can choose to focus your thesis research on a facet of your company.

PROGRAM STRUCTURE

The part-time Master Shipping and Transport program has a total duration of two years and three months. It consists of four core modules with various courses, and a final module that is dedicated to thesis research. You will have classes twice a week during evening hours (Tuesdays and Thursdays, 6:30-9:30 PM). Every five to six weeks a full day on Friday is scheduled for excursions and hands-on training, such as management games and simulator exercises.

The program offers various means of knowledge transfer and skill development, including lectures, seminars, case assignments, presentations and hands-on training. You are expected to prepare actively for your classes as these are mainly used for discussion and reflection. The evening classes and course assignments will allow you to interact with your fellow students and to share thoughts, discuss, analyse and make judgements. You will be assessed by means of reports, presentations and written examinations.

WORKLOAD

Participation in the Master program requires a study commitment of approximately 15 to 20 hours per week (including class hours). This workload may vary per course depending on your existing knowledge.

WHAT MAKES OUR PROGRAM UNIQUE?

- Comprehensive Program: The program allows you to further extend and enhance both your theoretical and practical knowledge of the shipping, port and transport industry;
- Management Skills Development: You are offered a learning environment in which you can professionalise your managerial skills;
- Business Expertise: The program provides a business oriented approach to course topics and a platform to discuss issues and developments with NMU associate lecturers who are selected on the basis of their expertise and international industry experience;
- Hands-on Approach: You have the opportunity to advance your skills by using STC-Group's state-of-the-art education facilities, including the world's largest simulator park. Excursions, management games and simulator exercises are all part of the program;
- New Perspectives & Experiences: You have the opportunity to be part of a highly motivated and diverse group of participants who will expose you to new perspectives and who will encourage you to share knowledge and experiences throughout the program and beyond;

- International Environment: The STC-Group has various locations worldwide, which contribute to its international character and global perspective. English is the language of instruction for classes, course materials and all other activities;
- Master Title: After graduation you are awarded the internationally recognised Master title;
- Quality: NMU's Master Shipping and Transport program has been accredited by the Dutch Flemish Organisation for Accreditation NVAO and NMU is certified by the ISO9001 quality management system.

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS

The program is designed for ambitious working professionals who can provide evidence of:

- a Bachelor degree;
- at least two years of relevant work experience;
- sufficient knowledge of the English language (this will be assessed during the application process).

ADMISSION PROCEDURE

Please visit our website (www.stc-nmu.eu) for up-to-date information on the next start dates and tuition fees. If you wish to apply, please download the application form from our website and send it together with the required documents to the NMU Admissions Office.
